Clarification regarding filing of application for revocation of cancellation of registration

Section 29 of CGST Act, 2017 empowers a proper officer to cancel the registration, including from a retrospective date, of a registered person on account of non-furnishing of returns in FORM GSTR-3B or FORM GSTR-4. Section 30 of the said Act provides an option for such persons to apply for revocation of cancellation of registration within 30 days of cancellation of registration. The Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs vide Circular No. 99/18/2019-GST dated 23/04/2019 has clarified the provisions regarding the filing of application for revocation of cancellation of registration. Rule 23 of the CGST Rules provides that where the registration has been cancelled with effect from the date of order of cancellation of registration, all returns due till the date of such cancellation are required to be furnished before the application for revocation can be filed. Where the registration has been cancelled with retrospective effect, the common portal doesnot allow furnishing of returns after the effective date of cancellation. In such cases it was not possible to file the application for revocation of cancellation of registration. Therefore, a third proviso was added to sub-rule (1) of rule 23 of the said Rules enabling filing of application for revocation of cancellation of registration, subject to the condition that all returns relating to the period from the effective date of cancellation of registration till the date of order of revocation of cancellation of registration shall be filed within a period of thirty days from the date of order of such revocation of cancellation of registration.

Tribunal being last Court of appeal on facts, its finding on question of fact is of significance, thus, where Tribunal did not correctly appreciate as to what Assessing Officer and Commissioner (Appeals) held and what was their reasoning which led to their respective conclusion, matter was to be remanded back for adjudication afresh

- Vide Decision of Supreme Court Of India in Principal Commissioner of Income-tax v. Ballarpur Industries Ltd.

Facts of the case:

1. The assessee is a Limited Company, which is engaged in the business of manufacturing of various kinds of papers. Case relates to AY 1993-94.
2. According to the assessee, Mr. G.R. Hada and the assessee were the joint promoters of one Company called M/s Andhra Pradesh Rayons Limited.

3. Since a dispute arose amongst the promoter shareholders, Mr. G.R. Hada filed a civil suit against the assessee and other promoter shareholders on the basis of an agreement, which was entered into amongst the promoter shareholders.
4. In the above mentioned suit, a compromise was arrived at between the assessee and Mr. G.R. Hada. Pursuant to the said compromise, the assessee paid a sum of Rs.3.25 crores to Mr. G.R. Hada.
5. The assessee claimed a deduction of Rs.3.25 crores as revenue expenditure because, according to them, they had paid the said sum to Mr. G.R. Hada for running their business.
6. The AO examined the claim and held that the claim cannot be considered as "revenue expenditure".

7. The assessee felt aggrieved by the order of the AO and filed an appeal to the CIT - Appeals. The CIT - Appeals also confirmed the addition made by the AO.
8. The assessee filed a second appeal in the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal. The Tribunal allowed the appeal and directed the AO to allow the deduction of Rs.3.25 crores as claimed by the assessee.
9. Aggreived by the order of Tribunal, Revenue filed an appeal in the High Court of Mumbai. By impugned order, the High Court dismissed the appeal.
10. Revenue further appealed to the Supreme Court.

Judgement:

The Honorable Supreme Court set aside the impugned order as well as the order of the Tribunal and remanded the case to the Tribunal. The need to remand the case to the Tribunal has arisen for the following reasons.

- From the perusal of the order of the Tribunal, it was found that the Tribunal has recorded a finding, which reads as under:-

"The AO did not dispute the fact that the expenditure related to the business of the assessee. The CIT (A), however, reversed the findings of the AO and held that the expenditure cannot be considered as business expenditure. A perusal of the CIT (A)'s order can only lead to a conclusion that the CIT(A) was of the view that the expenditure in question was not a capital expenditure but of a revenue nature……."

- The aforesaid observation of the Tribunal, on what AO and CIT - Appeals held, does not seem to be correct and rather inconsistent when we peruse the finding of the AO. We find that the Tribunal did not correctly appreciate as to what AO and CIT - Appeals held.

- The High court did not notice the aforesaid observation of the Tribunal and upheld the order of the Tribunal.

Keeping in view the question involved, the matter deserves to be remanded to the Tribunal for deciding the appeal filed by the assessee afresh on merits because the Tribunal being the last Court of appeal on facts, its finding on the question of fact is of significance.

Reimbursement of service tax, by ONGC to assessee not a part of aggregate amount specified in sub-section (2) of section 44BB

- Vide Decision of High Court Of Uttarakhand in Director of Income-tax International Taxation v. Schlumberger Asia Services Ltd.

Facts of the case:

1. Section 44BB of Income Tax Act, 1961 provides that in case of an assessee engaged in the business of providing services or facilities in connection with, or supplying plant and machinery on hire used, or to be used, in the prospecting for, or extraction or production of, mineral oils, a sum equal to 10% of the aggregate of

(a) the amount paid or payable the assessee or to any person on his behalf on account of the provision of services, and facilities in connection with, or supply of plant and machinery on hire used, or to be used, in the prospecting for, or extraction or production of, mineral oils in India;

(b) the amount received or deemed to be received in India by or on behalf of the assessee on account of the provision of services facilities connection with, or supply of plant and machinery on hire used, or to be used, in the prospecting for, or extraction or shall be deemed to be the profits and gains of such business chargeable to tax.

2. The issue involved in the present case is whether or not reimbursement of service tax, by the ONGC to the assessee forms a part of the aggregate amount specified in sub-section (2) of Section 44BB.
3. Department contended that the phrase used in Section 44BB (2) is "on account of" which is of a wider connotation and includes service tax, reimbursement of service tax along with consideration.
4. Assessee contended that the service tax collected / received by the assessee from its customers is on account of provision of services to be deposited with the Government of India. Since reimbursement of service tax is not on account of services rendered but is on account of 'provision of services and facilities' and is a statutory duty imposed on the assessee, it does not fall within the meaning of "amount" under Section 44BB(1). Also, such an amount is of the nature of 'pure reimbursement' without having an income element.

Judgement: The Honorable Supreme Court of India held that the amount reimbursed to the assessee by the ONGC, representing the service tax paid earlier by the assessee to the Government of India, would not form part of the amounts referred to in Section 44BB as the reimbursement of service tax is not an amount paid to the assessee on account of providing services and facilities in connection with the prospecting for, or extraction or production of, mineral oils in India.

Indirect Tax

Interest for late payment of GST payable on gross tax liability and not after set-off of Input Tax Credit

- Vide Decision Of High Court Of Telangana in Megha Engineering and Infrastructures Ltd. v. Commissioner of Central Tax

Facts of the case:

1. Case of the petitioner is that the GST portal is designed in such a manner that unless the entire tax liability is discharged, the system will not accept the return in Form GSTR-3B. For example, even if an assessee was entitled to set off to the extent of 95% by utilizing ITC, the return cannot be filed unless the remaining 5% is also paid.
2. There was an delay on the part of the petitioner in filing the return for the period October 2017 to May 2018 and which was due to shortage of ITC available to offset the entire tax liability. Total tax liability of the petitioner for the period July 2017 to May 2018 was Rs.1014,02,89,385/- and the ITC available during this period was Rs.968,58,86,133/- and the shortfall to the extent of Rs.45,44,03,252/- was required to be paid by way of cash. Due to certain restraints they could not make the payment and file return within the due date but the entire liability was discharged in May 2018- Consequently, the department demanded interest @18% in terms of Sectin 50 of the CGST Act, 2017.

Judgement: The Honorable High Court of Telangana held that -

"In view of Section 50(1), the liability to pay interest arises automatically, when a person who is liable to pay tax fails to pay the tax to the Government within the prescribed period – liability to pay interest is in respect of the period for which the tax remains unpaid. Until a return is filed, no entitlement to credit and no actual entry of credit in the electronic credit ledger takes place. It is only after a claim is made in the return that the same gets credited in the electronic credit leger and it is only after a credit is entered in the electronic ledger that a payment could be made even though the payment is only by way of paper entries - the tax already paid on the inputs of supplies of goods and services available somewhere in the air should be tapped and brought in the form of credit entry in the electronic credit ledger and payment has to be made from out of the same if no payment is made, the mere availability of the same will not tantamount to actual payment. As the payment of the tax liability, partly in cash and partly in the form of claim for ITC was made beyond the period prescribed, the liability to pay interest u/s 50(1) arises on the gross tax liability. Only when the payment is made, the Government gets a right over the money available in the ledger. Since ownership of such money is with the dealer till the time of actual payment, the Government becomes entitled to interest up to the date of their entitlement to appropriate it. Hence, the claim made by the respondent for interest on the ITC portion of the tax cannot be found fault with.
